Throws down a child he just consumed, a little 4 year old boy, blonde hair and freckles. dead and gone. Has anyone ever told you of natural selection? Foolish morsel decided upon himself to go forth into the night and deep forest I know not why. Most certainly I can say of him is that he quite simply is a feeble minded child and it is well that I had found him that he might be most effectatiously culled from the local herd. Alas it nearly came to pass that the noble vampire society might have been deprived of this most delicious morsel should he have perished in and of himself. Do you not agree my child? as for you most greivous poacher, oh what shall we do?	Links with the human group "order of nine angles", eugenicism, social darwinist.
